THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF ATOMIC ENERGY (SHRIMATI VASUNDHARA RAJE): (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) and (c) The present nuclear power capacity in the country is 2720 MWe. It is proposed to be increased to about 20,000 MWe by the year 2020, subject to the availability of budgetary support from the Government. During the X Five Year Plan, nuclear power capacity of 1300 MWe is planned to be added by completion of TAPP 3&4-2×500 MWe (being uprated to 540 MWe) and Kaiga 3 (one 220 MWe, out of 2×220 MWe of Kaiga 3&4 units under construction) units. Thus, the total nuclear power capacity will reach 4020 MWe by the end of the X Plan. The proposals in the X Plan envisage the commencement of new schemes, to yield benefits for reaching a total nuclear power capacity of 9935 MWe by end of XI Plan. Additional projects are also planned to be taken up in the XI Plan and beyond, to achieve a nuclear power capacity of about 20,000 MWe by the year 2020.

The above programme will however be subject to allocation of required plan outlays and Budgetary Support from the Government of India.
